

Tūhonohono i ngā Taonga ā-Iwi: Te Hau

28-29 March 2019, Gisborne

Delivered in partnership by National Services Te Paerangi and Rongowhakaata Iwi Trust, the 2019 Tūhonohono conference will be held in Gisborne on 28-29 March 2019.

Save the dates now! Registration will open in late January.

Tēnei te reo pōhiri o Rongowhakaata ki ngā iwi o te motu kia haere mai ki Tūranganui-a-Kiwa.

Tūhonohono i ngā Taonga ā-Iwi, kia wānangahia te kaitiekitanga.

Ko 'Te Hau' te tāhū kōrero o tēnei huinga tāngata, huinga taonga, huinga kōrero. Ko Rongowhakaata kei te kimi i te ara tika, i te ara pai e hoki mai ai te whare i hangaia e Raharuhi Rukupō ki te wā kaenga.

Ko ngā iwi kei te kimi huarahi e tūhono atu ai ngā uri ki ngā tīpuna e putuputu mai rā ki ngā whare taonga puta noa i te motu.

Tūhonohono is a forum for iwi to share the kaupapa of kaitiekitanga, to wānanga the challenges, the opportunities and the mātauranga that are inherent in taonga.

Iwi culture and heritage experts will be providing first hand advice and insight into conservation and managing taonga held within the care of the community.

The programme will share development of local kaupapa and initiatives as well as a number of speakers from across Aotearoa who will provide information and assistance to support iwi in the care and management of their taonga.

Who is it for?

The conference is for people who are involved with iwi cultural centres, the preservation of iwi culture and built heritage, kaitieki of taonga, and iwi development. It is also for those who have a general interest in these areas and would like to learn more.

Getting there

Travel Subsidy Grants are available to help you get to the conference. In order to guarantee your application will be processed in time, applications should be received by National Services Te Paerangi two weeks before the event to be considered.
